

Fast Facts:

- WHEN will periodically provide you with free product samples and trial offers for your facility members
- Educational literature will typically accompany each product line
  - Introduces the product to members and aids in understanding the product, its purpose, and intended use
- WHEN will occasionally offer you the option to have health screenings and consumer health assessments conducted right in your facility
  - Depending on the type, these may be executed by your facility personnel or outside professionals may come to conduct

